MD's Comments

Dear Shareholder

Your Company has been through a very difficult period over the last 9 months. The last quarter's activities were focusing mainly on two areas: operational cost reduction and continued finance sourcing to enable our business relaunch. During this time we have discontinued Trig Entertainment AB, which has negatively impacted our accounts in the third quarter. Due to the reorganisation and reduction of all manpower we also had to postpone the launch of our franchise based product marketing model - Fusion. Fusion is now expected to start in January 2016.

The cash flow over the period was very limited making marketing and development difficult. Our situation remains extremely fragile until the new financing solutions are in place. We have been receiving support from a number of our shareholders. As mentioned in the half year report, the company has also been working on strengthening its internal reporting and governance. This resulted in a complete review of the accounts and a recent resubmission of the half year report. The outcome from this is a more controlled environment that will allow us to focus on growth.

During this period we have also been working on sourcing new financing. We believe that we now have a solution for the short and midterm cash flow. If successful this should allow the business to restart its growth phase in early part of 2016 with main focus on customer acquisition and existing product enhancement.

Not all activities over the period have come to a halt. The business has agreed with a third party to outsource further evolution and development of the Trig Social platform on a profit share basis. We have also worked on sourcing new products that can along our own products be marketed for a profit via the Fusion network.

The plan for fourth quarter as well as early 2016 is firstly to secure operational financing and secondly to restart business growth via a three element strategy focusing on: core product enhancement, development of global sales channels, and acquisition of complimentary services. The purpose of this strategy is enable the business becoming self sufficient during 2016. As a part of this, we intend to focus our efforts on developing revenue models for all our core products. All of these initiatives are subject to new funding availability.

Peter Kristoffersson

Nacka, 10 December 2015

Outlook

We believe our core objective to deliver high quality social medial integrated with a unique revenue model remains possible. The performed cost reductions together with the new strategy should enable the business to start growing again. However, to do so, it is imperative that the business obtains additional funding to support this objective. Any growth initiatives are subject to new funding availability.

Finance and operations

The third quarter was mainly focusing on reorganisation, cost reduction and sourcing new funding. The company was not able to generate any income from its operations and the situation will most likely remain the same in the last quarter of 2015. Due to the strained economy no significant product development and no marketing has taken place over the period. The Fusion franchise development has continued albeit at a slower pace than originally expected. This has in turn resulted in the Franchise being only able to start in early 2016. The company has also been reviewing the valuation of the company and its product marketing plans. It was considered reasonable to revalue the IP reducing the previous reduction of value. The new values were put in place before the end of this reporting period.

The company is continuing to analyse its expenditure with the aim to further reduce costs. We expect this process to finish in Q4.

Organisation

Towards the end of the third quarter the group decided to liquidate its subsidiary Trig Entertainment AB (TEAB) Swedish Corporate Identity Number 556781-3729. The application for liquidation was filed on September 28, 2015. Consequently, this lead to a write-off of EUR 6,706,712 for Trig Social Media. The group has also dissolved its dormant subsidiary Trig Royalty Ltd, a company incorporated in the United Arab Emirates.

Currently the company has only one subsidiary, Trig Development AB (TDAB). TDAB was acquired in October 2015 and has not yet commenced operations. At the end of the period the group employed an 18 people and 2 consultants.

Financing

During this period Trig Media Group AB (TMG) has agreed to financially support TSM to mitigate risks to the business and in addition to provide additional paid in capital, by way of shares, to TEAB in order to settle any obligations between the TEAB and TSM. TMG is open to possible future conversions of its loans into equity but a decision has not yet been reached.

Over the past two months the management has been working with a New York City based financial services provider on identifying new funding opportunities. We believe that we now have a viable plan in place that should deliver the required financing during the first quarter of 2016. Further announcements on funding initiatives are expected to be made in the immediate future.

Transactions with closely related parties

During the second quarter, the company has taken guarantees from its parent company, Trig Media Group AB, which have been in part guaranteed by its major shareholder.

Capital Investments

The Company has during the period not initiated any major investments in new projects or products.

Significant risks and uncertainty factors

Financing risk

Cash flow and financing remains a concern and has been identified as the single most significant risk. There is a risk that the Trig will not be able to raise enough funds to finance its operations and the development of launched projects and finalization of future services under development.

The board is continuously exploring all possible means to secure future financing and anticipates to make announcement on this matter in the immediate future.

Legal risk

On 10 March 2015 the German Financial Supervisory authorities, BaFin, announced it is investigating the allegation of "cold calls" and possible market manipulation. At the time of writing the Group has not had any communication from BaFin besides the contact made by Trig through their German lawyers. The board is still of the opinion that no errors or wrongdoings have been committed and that the company runs no legal exposure in relation to this.

The table above explains changes in Trig Social Media AB's, the parent company, shares and share capital. Trig Social Media AB has one class of shares and all shares are fully paid.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION TO THE CONSOLIDATED ACCOUNTS

Accounting and valuation principles

The interim report and its consolidated financial statements for the period 1 January 2015 to September 30, 2015 is prepared in accordance to the Annual Accounts Act (Swedish: Årsredovisningslagen), the related recommendation RFR 2 "Accounting for Legal Entities", IAS 34 (Interim Financial Reporting) and the current International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) approved by the IASB and in practice and adopted by the European Union (EU). The interim report does not include all the information and disclosures as required when fully preparing an annual financial statement and therefore the interim report should be read together with the consolidated financial statements as of December 31, 2014.

Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include Trig Social Media AB (publ.) and the companies over which the parent company has a direct or indirect controlling influence. Control exists in the normal case when the parent directly or indirectly owns shares representing more than 50% of the votes. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the group, they are deconsolidated from the date when the same control ceases. When assessing whether a controlling influence exists shareholder agreements and potential voting rights that are exercisable or convertible has been taken into account.

Accounting policies of the subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to comply with the group accounting policies. All intercompany transactions, balances and unrealized gains and losses on intercompany transactions have been eliminated when preparing the consolidated financial statements.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized at fair value of the received value or expected receivable value and represents the sum of services provided, net of discounts, returns and value added taxes. The group recognizes revenue when the amount can be measured reliably and when it is probable that future financial revenue will benefit the company. The group's revenue arises from commissions on mediated sales. Revenues from this commission is recognized when the amount of these revenues can be measured reliably and it normally takes 60-90 days after the end-customers have made their purchases in the stores connected to trig.com.

Warranty

The Group has no guaranteed obligations.

Taxes

The tax expense represents the sum of current tax and deferred tax.

Current tax is calculated on taxable earnings for the period. Taxable profit differs from the reported profit in the income statement when it is adjusted for non-taxable income and non-deductible expenses, and income and expenses taxable or deductible in other periods. The group's current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs are recognized as revenue or cost in the period when it incurs.

Remuneration to employees

Remuneration to employees such as wages, paid holidays, paid sick leave, etc. is recognized in the same period as it is earned.

Receivables and payables

Receivables are reported at the amount they are expected to be collected at. Liabilities are reported at the amount they are expected to be settled with. Receivables and payables in foreign currencies are valued at the exchange of rate as at the day of closing. Hedged receivables and liabilities in foreign currencies have been translated at the exchange rate of the transaction date and the contract's forward premium is accrued over the period of the forwarding contract.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment gains/losses. The cost consists of the purchase price, additional expenses are added to the asset or recognized as a separate asset if it is probable that future economic benefits attributable to the asset will benefit the group and the cost of the same can be measured reliably. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation methods are reviewed at least at each financial year, the effect of any changes in estimates are recognized prospectively. The carrying amount of an intangible asset is removed from the statement of financial position on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or scrapping/disposal. The gain or loss arising on the disposal or sale of the asset, the difference between the net income from the sale and the carrying value, and recognized in earnings in the period when the asset is removed from the statement of financial position.

Impairment of intangible assets

At each closing date the company analyzes the carrying value of all intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have declined in value. If so deemed, the assets are valued to recoverable value and to determining the value of any impairment. If it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. When calculating the fair value of discounted estimated future cash flows to present value a pre-tax rate is used that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. If the recoverable amount of an asset is set to a value lower than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is expensed in the income statement. If an impairment loss is reversed then the asset has increased to a revalued recoverable amount. The increased carrying value will not exceed the carrying amount that would be booked if no impairment of the asset had been done in an earlier period. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized directly in the profit and loss statement.

Foreign currency

Items in the financial statements for the various units in the group are recognized in the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (its functional currency). In the consolidated accounts all amounts are translated into euro, which is the Company's reporting currency. Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate on the transaction date. At each balance day, monetary items in foreign currencies are translated at to the rate of the closing day. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated to the exchange rate at the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items measured at historical cost in a foreign currency are translated at the rate of the closing day. Exchange differences are recognized in the income statement in the period in which they arise.

Results and financial position of group entities that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- Assets and liabilities in the balance sheets are translated at the prevailing rate at the closing date,
- income and expenses in income statements are translated at an average exchange rate for the period, and
- all resulting exchange differences are recognized in other comprehensive income
